

Industrialization of management with information technology – Hospital schedule management

The purpose of the paper is to develop a process based on industry structure where information technology plays a core role in order to increase efficiency in the management. We will analyze the similarities between industries and managed by information technology. Apply the strengths found in developing a specific management process. By analyzing the problem, we will build a process based on the appropriate modules. Then we will compare the performance of new processes and traditional methods.

*Ho Hoang Long
Tran Phuong Linh*